IV Department for International Students Only

1. Department Name: Department of Global Convergence (English track)

2. Majors

A. General Engineering

This program provides a comprehensive study of the basic principles and various technologies of engineering. It aims to cultivate problem-solving skills in engineering by providing foundational knowledge in diverse engineering fields, such as mechanical, electrical, and chemical engineering.

B. Global Business

The goal of this major is to nurture individuals who can effectively operate in the global market, where different nations and cultures interact in a rapidly changing international economic environment. The program educates students in the fundamental theories of global business and develops their ability to successfully engage in business activities in various economic and cultural contexts.

C. Marine Biotechnology

This field combines marine resources and biotechnology to cultivate talents who will lead the sustainable marine food industry. It covers topics such as the characteristics, physiology, and biotechnology of marine organisms, as well as the development of health-functional foods. The program provides scientific and practical education that explores and utilizes the diverse potential of marine resources.

3. Curriculum

Year	Language taught	Curriculum
Freshman(Year 1)	English	General Education(Basic, Balanced, Haeram), Major courses(Foundational) ※ Before selecting a major
